Links Quito With Guayaquil

Celebrate 50th Anniversary Of 'Andean Roller Coaster'

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — Ecuador is celebrating the 50th anniversary of the "Andean roller coaster," a railroad that provides an exciting ride.

The 287-mile line links this capital city, over 9,000 feet up in the towering Andes, with the bustling port of Guayaquil on the Pacific.

Its completion 50 years ago marked a turning point in the unification of this republic by opening a vast territory for agricultural and industrial development.

It was long the dream of Eloy Alfaro, Ecuador's president at the turn of the century.

House Votes Cutback In Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted 253-126 to take what President Eisenhower called the "reckless risk" of cutting 872 million dollars off his foreign aid money requests.

The Senate may restore some of this fund. But the indicators pointed toward a possible three-quarter billion dollar final reduction under the $3,900,000,000 in new money the President originally asked.

House passage yesterday of a $3,078,000,000 appropriations measure handed Eisenhower a stinging rebuff in his drive for "more ammunition to wage the peace." By a 2-1 margin, the House members ignored his contention that a White House news conference that their action would "encourage Communist imperialists."

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, commenting on reports of the action as a setback to Eisenhower, said:

"The President thinks the country and the free world suffered a serious setback today."

Eisenhower's personally conducted campaign for more money bore fruit among House Republicans but failed to enlist many Democrats. On a test vote to restore 75 million dollars in defense support funds, 105 Republicans and 60 Democrats voted for the larger amount. However, 74 Republicans and 140 Democrats joined to defeat the proposal.

On the final roll call, 146 Democrats and 107 Republicans voted for passage. Against were 57 Democrats and 69 Republicans.

When the Senate Appropriations Committee takes up the bill next week, it will be operating under an authorization measure which fixed a ceiling nearly 300 million dollars less than Eisenhower's request but still 597½ million above the House-passed figure.

This represents the full amount the Senate could restore to the bill. But most senators thought any additions would be less than half that total.

Chairman Carl Hayden (D-Ariz.) declined to predict in advance what the Appropriations Committee will do. It will begin hearings on the bill next Tuesday.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the conference of all GOP senators, said he and other members of the committee "will make every effort we can to restore a substantial amount of these funds."

But Sens. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) and Styles Bridges (R-NH), other committee members, have said the totals would fall short of Eisenhower's goals.

Squire Locally Dead Returns for Living

SEATTLE (AP)—Life began at 63 for Edward E. Squire — a man who has been locally dead for three years.

The former Seattle resident disappeared in January 1946. Three years ago the courts declared him legally dead so his small estate could go to his elderly stepmother.

A few months ago, Squire returned to Seattle for a visit. He has been a news vendor in San Francisco since leaving Seattle, he said.

Yesterday, after assuring Judge Donald L. Gaines he felt very much alive, Squire was restored to life legally.

"Life," said Squire, "is wonderful."

Shirley Corson, Jimmie Norwood Wed In Kansas City Church

The marriage of Miss Shirley Ann Corson, daughter of Mrs. George W. Frances, Kansas City, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle A. Norwood, Kansas City, took place June 8 at Beaumont Baptist Church. The Rev. Ralph F. Powell performed the ceremony before an altar trimmed with white satin ribbon, and on either side were baskets of pink and white gladiolus interspersed with greenery and candelabra holding white burning tapers.

Arthur Evans, organist, accompanied Jimmie Evans who sang "A Very Special Love," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The candles were lighted by Miss Marilyn Cleland and Miss Margaret Paden. Their dresses were of green taffeta accented with white and they carried white burning tapers tied with green ribbon.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, the bride wore an original, floor length gown of white satin and nylon organza, accented with lace, and scooped neckline. The bouffant skirt, designed with lace appliques, formed a small train. Her fingertip veil fell from a white tiara and she carried a white Bible topped with pink roses and pink carnations.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Barbara Pearce. Her gown was of pink taffeta, accented with white lace and her colonial bouquet was of white carnations.

The bridesmaids, Miss Loretta Simmons, Miss Dorothy Minor, and Mrs. Dixie Nail, wore gowns of pale green taffeta, and carried bouquets of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, the reception was held in the church basement. Serving approximately 250 guests were Miss Sharon Vogeler, Miss Laura Hayes, Miss Naomi Young, Edward and Michael Norwood, and Mrs. Warren Young. Having charge of the guest book was Miss Joyce Lockhart.

Patrol Can Stop, Search On Highways

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Starting at midnight the Missouri Highway Patrol had a new weapon in its battle against crime. For the first time the patrol has the same power of search and seizure on the streets and highways as other law enforcement officers.

The new law was passed by the Legislature after a bitter struggle in its special session earlier this year. It is one of 11 new laws that went into effect at midnight.

Most of them affect government agencies and operations but one is of importance to every automobile driver. It requires motorists to stop for loading and unloading school buses in both rural and urban areas.

Formerly the bus stop provision did not apply in incorporated areas.

The new search and seizure power for the patrol doesn't necessarily mean that you'll be stopped and your car will be searched the next time you're out driving.

Like other law officers, the troopers will be able to search a vehicle only while making a lawful arrest. In special cases, they'll still have to get a search warrant. But it will permit the troopers to take stolen articles from a car and make a case instead of having the charges dismissed because of an unlawful search. And it will allow them to take overweight trucks to a weight station and make their cases stand up in magistrate court.

Or, when pursuing a bank robber, the troopers won't have to wait for the sheriff to show up before seizing the loot—something that has happened several times in the past.

Since a highway is defined legally as any public thoroughfare, the new power for the patrol has been interpreted to extend to streets and alleys in cities and towns as well as roads in rural areas.

Other new laws taking effect include acts to:

Set up a long range building planning program for state construction under the comptroller's office, an arm of the executive branch.

Put the state purchasing agent under the comptroller.

Set up a state truck reciprocity commission to negotiate agreements with other states. No state agency has that power now.

Put some enforcement teeth in the state cigarette tax law.

Explosion Puts Out Electricity For North Jersey

KEARNY N.J. (AP)—A 25-ton transformer exploded into flames here Wednesday, leaving parts of metropolitan North Jersey without electric power for up to an hour and a half.

The fire cut off power to 400,000 customers and caused widespread delays in train service.

A spokesman for the Public Service Electric & Gas Co. said the fire at an outdoor switching station near the Hackensack River destroyed the transformer but damage was limited to equipment there. There were no injuries.

Power went off at 3:47 p.m. At that instant, trains stopped, stranding thousands of New York and New Jersey commuters. Delays ranged from a minute to an hour.

Some people were caught between floors in elevators. Traffic lights went out. Police directed rush hour traffic by hand.

Air conditioners and electric fans stopped as the mercury soared to 96 on the hottest day of the year in New Jersey.

Movie houses closed their doors. Almost all major industrial plants in the area were forced to shut down.

Employees were also sent home from many businesses unable to function without the use of electrical typewriters, cash registers, adding machines and other electrical equipment.

Texans Ready to Show Rebels Some Action

GLADEWATER, Tex. (AP)—A band of sharp-shooting Texans is ready to show Cuban rebel Fidel Castro that flaunting Uncle Sam can be pretty risky.

All they need is the green light from President Eisenhower to unlimber their six-guns and deer rifles and dash to the rescue of the Americans the Cubans are holding.

Martin McAdea, 61, oilman and rancher, wired the White House for permission to lead the band of 24. He said they include former Texas Rangers and "other men fed up with this foolishness."

No Evidence Is Found Of Mass Infiltration

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld declared today he had found no evidence of any mass infiltration of United Arab Republic forces into strife-torn Lebanon.

Lebanon's pro-Western President Camille Chamoun repeatedly has charged that massive intervention by the U.A.R. is threatening peace in the Middle East. It was on this ground he called for U.N. action.

Hammarskjöld's remark was made at a news conference.

Convict Finds Legal Error In Statutes

LEAVENWORTH, Kas. (AP)—A man has plenty of time to himself in prison. Virgil Gail Lawton took advantage of it. He read the small print of the state statute concerning his conviction.

Lawton, dressed in prison khaki, stood up in district court as his own lawyer yesterday and appealed for release or, at least, a new hearing.

He contended before Judge Joseph J. Dawes that his sentencing was illegal. By reading the law, he said, he found the 1957 Kansas Legislature had provided that possession of marijuana is a misdemeanor, apparently in error.

But that was no concern of his, Lawton went on. He was convicted under the 1949 law which considers possession of marijuana a felony. To him, conviction meant prison whereby, under the new statute, it would mean only a short jail term.

In a nine-page handwritten petition, Lawton wrote:

"Now the contentions are that your petitioner, being a first-time loser, under the act or laws or statutes, the sections of the law clearly state that a person violating this law on the first offense shall receive a penalty of a misdemeanor, and to be charged with committing a crime less in nature than a felony."

Lawton, a slim, swarthy man, has had no legal training. And it is not unusual for state prisoners to draw up and file their own writs. But his petition drew powerful opposition. Arrayed against him were Tom Crosson, Montgomery County attorney, and John Emerson, assistant state attorney general.

Crosson spoke for a half hour, arguing that the 1949 criminal statute had not been superseded by the 1957 law. The older act, he said, was specific, the recent one, general.

"This is a very serious matter," Crosson said. "The question of selling narcotics is not to be settled lightly."

Judge Dawes said he found some merit in Lawton's arguments, adding:

"This court regrets that in no way can I order you discharged. In one county a county attorney can prosecute for possession of marijuana as a misdemeanor subject to a 30-day jail sentence, and in another the county attorney can prosecute under the old law for a felony and penitentiary sentence. It is a bad situation."

"There's nothing I can do except deny the writ. If there were any way I could get you out of the penitentiary, I'd do it."

The judge suggested that Lawton apply to the Kansas Supreme Court.

"That's what I'll do," he said as guards took him back to state prison.

Pleasure Craft Outing Changed To Near Tragedy

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—A gay outing for nine persons on a 25-foot pleasure craft turned into near tragedy yesterday when they were stricken by monoxide poisoning.

All eight, including a family of five from Hannibal, Mo., were taken to a Tacoma hospital for observation but only Mrs. Louise A. Redford, 32, of Tacoma remained there overnight. She was described as in good condition.

The other stricken were Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Anderson of Tacoma; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smoot of Hannibal; and their three children, Joan, 14, Gary, 10, and Donna, 6.

The operator of the boat, the Nonesuch, was Charles Imman of Puyallup, Wash., who was not stricken.

The Coast Guard said Imman hailed an 83-foot patrol boat in Commencement Bay north of Tacoma and said one of his eight passengers, Mrs. Redford, had been stricken with monoxide poisoning.

Coast Guardsmen who boarded the Nonesuch discovered that the Andersons and the Smoot family likewise had been stricken.

KC Couple Robbed Of Jewelry, Furs Valued at $20,000

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A Kansas City couple was robbed of jewelry and furs valued at $20,000 in their home last night by two polite but determined bandits.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo S. Fisher told police they were accosted by the two men, both wearing masks, in their home as they returned from a dinner at the home of a son.

Fisher, president of the Kansas City Laundry Service, said his wife entered the house while he was putting the car away and was held by the bandits until he entered and told him to be quiet.

The intruders made Mrs. Fisher remove her jewelry and get other jewelry from a bureau in her bedroom.

The Fishers said the two men then bound them with strips of toweling and left them on the bedroom floor. The couple said the men were polite and continually assured them they would not be hurt if they cooperated.

Bus Service Begins From Whiteman

Whiteman Air Force Base will start a military bus service between Whiteman Air Force Base and Sedalia effective July 4, and continuing each Friday and Saturday thereafter.

The service will be started on a trial basis and the number of base military personnel utilizing the buses will decide how long it is continued.

Bus services in the past, both commercial and military, were discontinued because base personnel did not utilize the facilities enough to make it worthwhile as a paying venture or even as a base service.

Upon the recommendation of the Whiteman NCO Advisory Council, the bus service will be put into effect on Fridays and Saturdays and on paydays when they occur in the middle of the week.

After talking to traffic offenders, Col. Harold E. Humfeld, wing commander, feels that the bus service will be an aid to accident prevention and traffic violations by providing military personnel with transportation to and from Sedalia.

The buses will pick up passengers along the route on the return trip to the base.

Trips will originate at the parking lot next to the base service club and will leave the base at 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. for Sedalia. Return trips to the base will leave Sedalia United Civic Center at 109 West Second, at 7 p.m. and mid-night.

Base personnel are being urged to use the bus facilities if they want the convenience of bus service over a longer period of time. If enough personnel do not utilize the service, it will be discontinued and the base will once again be without any bus service at all.

Personnel going to town on the weekend and planning on visiting the local bars are being urged to follow the advice of the base safety office by using this motto, "If you do the drinking, let us do the driving."

Five airmen from the Whiteman Air Force Base were injured about 1:20 a.m. Thursday in an unexpected "flight" when their car, a 1951 Chevrolet, left a curve on Highway 65 near Bothwell Lodge. All received injuries and the car was demolished.

The accident occurred as the car driven by A-3c Tracy Russell McCord Jr., 23, of 340th Headquarters Squadron, ABG, was headed south on the highway. McCord, according to Trooper Richard Joos, of the State Highway Patrol, said he was driving about 50 miles an hour and went into the curve too fast.

The automobile tire marks showed where the car began a slight skid 129 feet on the concrete in the bare curve of the road, left the highway just north of the tavern operated by Pat Hood and started skidding on the gravel.

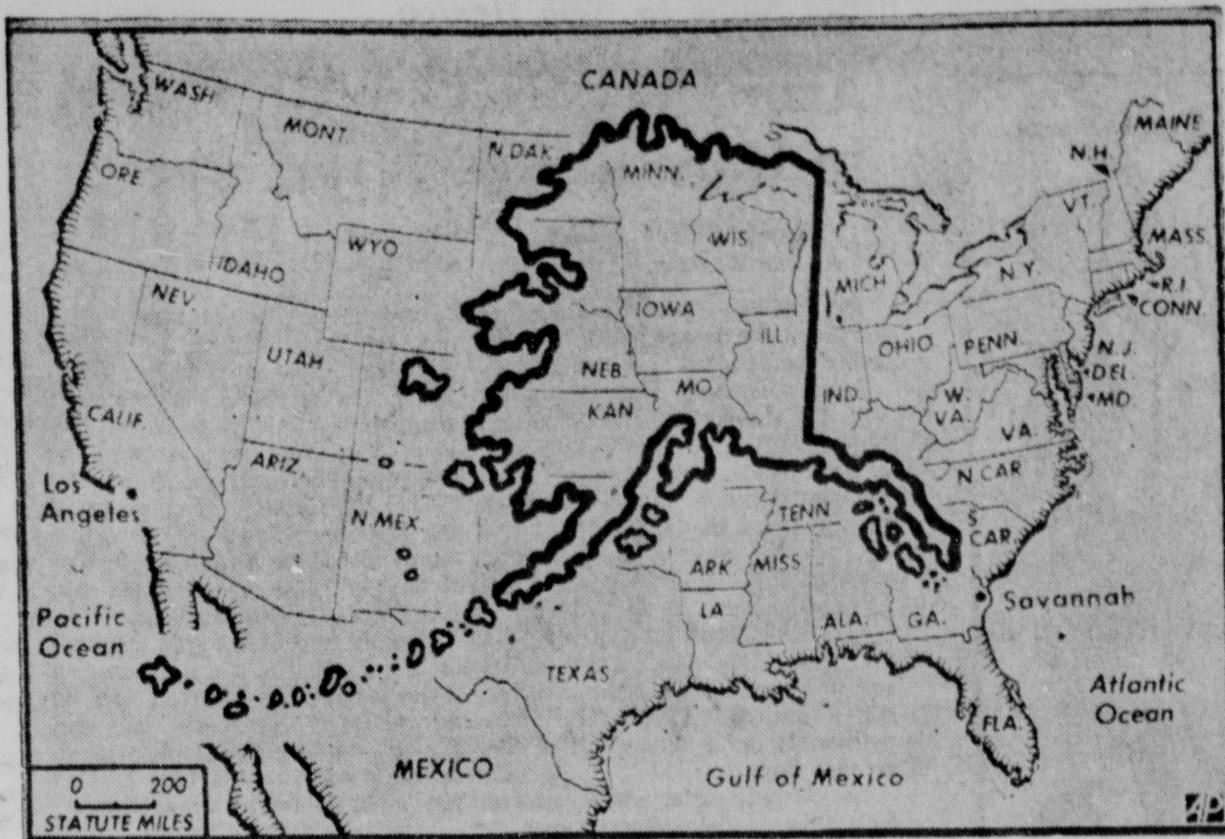

The car then traveled about 228 feet, going into a sideways skid, crashed into a telephone pole, breaking it off and ripping the stump of the pole. The pole swung, then jammed into the ground upright and no interference in telephone lines resulted.

After striking the pole, the car continued on and went a distance of approximately 40 feet through the air, dropping to the ground on its wheels. From where the car left the ground down into a corn field it is 25 feet below the roadway level.

McCord suffered bruises on the head, cuts and scrapes of both arms.

Passengers in the car were Harris E. Felex, 23, 340th Supply Squadron, received a cut of the left arm of a minor nature; Floyd G. Uncooked Jam

Strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, blueberries, and peaches can be used with commercial fruit pectin for making uncooked jam. Use fully ripe but sound fruit for finest color and flavor. The jam tastes like fresh fruit, although many people prefer the flavor of cooked fruit in jam and preserves.

General mixing directions: This type of jam is very easy to make. A pectin solution is stirred into the mixture of fruit and sugar and then the mixture is poured into containers to stand until "set" before sealing and storing in the refrigerator or freezer. If frozen fruit is used, reduce the sugar according to the amount added when the fruit was frozen—usually omit 1 cup for three cups fruit.

Uncooked jam will keep in the refrigerator a few weeks or in the freezer for months, but because it is uncooked, it will not keep on the kitchen shelf.

To have the jam at its best, use it soon after opening the container. If the jam is too firm when opened for serving, stirring will soften it. In most jams that contain much extra pectin, the crushed fruit floats to the top. If it tends to separate, stirring will blend it again.

Uncooked Blackberry Jam—Four cups blackberries, 1 box dry pectin, 5½ cups sugar. Use three cups fully ripe and 1 cup slightly under-ripe berries. Put berries through a food grinder. Combine pectin and water in a saucepan and boil one minute, stirring constantly. Add the sugar and 3½ cups fruit pulp to the hot pectin. Stir five minutes to completely dissolve sugar. Pour into glasses or freezer containers, cool, and let jell. Put in refrigerator for use in a week or two, or freeze. To serve the frozen jam, let thaw 30 minutes, then turn out. Refrigerate any unused part. Makes three pints.

Uncooked Strawberry Jam—One 12-oz. box or 1¼ cups sliced frozen strawberries, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1½ cups sugar, ¼ cup powdered pectin (about ½ package), 7 tablespoons water (½ cup minus one tablespoon).
Warm berries to room temperature and then add the lemon juice and sugar. Mix and let set 20 minutes stirring occasionally to make sure all the sugar is dissolved. Mix water and pectin and boil one minute stirring constantly. Slowly pour the hot pectin into the berries, stirring all the while and continue to stir for two to three minutes. Pour into jelly glasses, jars, or freezer containers. Cover and allow to remain at room temperature until jelled. This may take a few minutes or it may require several hours — it varies with different varieties of berries. Store jam in refrigerator for use in one or two weeks, or freeze. Makes 1½ pints.

How to Control Cockroaches
Cockroaches are pests throughout the United States. They carry filth on their legs and bodies and may spread disease by polluting food. They destroy food and damage fabrics and bookbindings.
Cockroaches have an offensive odor that may ruin food. Unless adjoining homes or apartments. To keep them out, fill all cracks passing through floors or walls, and cracks leading to spaces behind baseboards and door frames, with putty or plastic wood. Pay special attention to water and steam pipes entering rooms.

Cockroaches develop in large numbers in dirt and filth. Thorough cleaning reduces the likelihood of infestation.
When you bring baskets, bags or boxes of food and laundry into the house, look for cockroaches that may be hiding in them and kill any that you find.
Roaches develop resistance to chlordane, dieldrin, and DDT; resistance is especially widespread in German cockroaches.
Diazinon and malathion will control resistant roaches. Apply diazinon over the infested places as a 0.5 per cent emulsion or oil solution spray. Malathion may be used at 2 per cent strength in similar formulations. Also, spot treatments may be made with malathion in a 3 to 5 per cent concentration, which should be applied with a brush or sprayed in places where roaches run or hide.

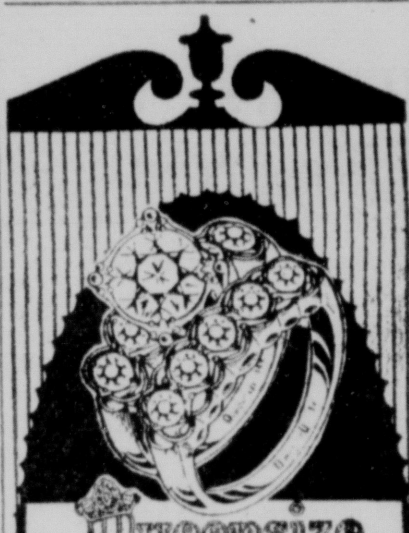

Many Islands
Japan's Inland Sea, 250-mile-long body of water, contains about 3,000 islands, more than any similar body of water anywhere in the world.

Cockroaches hide during the day in sheltered, dark places. They come out and forage at night. If disturbed, they run rapidly for shelter and disappear through openings to their hiding places.
The five kinds that are troublesome in buildings can be distinguished from each other by their appearance and by the places where they are found.

German and brown-banded cockroaches mature in four to six months; other kinds mature in about a year. Cockroaches grow slowly when food, temperature, and moisture are unfavorable. Conditions are not usually ideal for rapid growth in buildings and homes where good sanitation is practiced.

The female lays her eggs in a leathery capsule, which she forms at the end of her body. The German cockroach carries the egg capsule about a month, and drops it a day or so before the eggs are ready to hatch; about 30 cockroaches hatch from the capsule. The other kinds carry the egg capsules a day or two, then glue them to some object in a protected place; about 12 cockroaches hatch from each capsule after an incubation period of two to three months.

Cockroaches may enter the house from outdoors, in infested containers from other buildings, or from

Wins Weight in Gold In Television Show

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Grace H. Tinsley is glad she's won the weight in gold on a television program last night.

"It's worth being a bit plump for all this," said Mrs. Tinsley as they handed her a check for $30,318 on the NBC network show, "It Could Be You." "But now I can afford to go on a diet."

The 5-foot-2, 169-pound grandmother from Independence, Mo., won the sum — what she'd be worth in 14-carat gold — for writing a sentence on why she wanted a washer-dryer made by the sponsor.

Teenager to Bicycle From Coast to Coast

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP)—Why would anyone want to spend a summer vacation pedaling a bicycle coast to coast?

"I'm just trying to prove people are generous," Neal Timmins said as he pumped his two-wheeler eastward from Flagstaff along U.S. 66.

At some stops, Timmins, who is carrying little more than a bedroll, has had to depend upon kind-hearted policemen for food and shelter. By and large, he's done all right, but he has lost 15 pounds.

Timmins plans to complete his trip by way of Albuquerque, Wichita, Indianapolis and Cleveland.

Subsidy Pros and Cons

Sedalia's street improvement problems are not much different than those of other Missouri communities which are finding difficulty maintaining thoroughfares for burdensome automotive traffic.

The 60-cent law, currently a solution for quick repairs, is only stop-gap relief accepted reluctantly, but already viewed with misgivings by property owners concerned lest temporary improvements may have to be repeated every two years or so. Ultimately this procedure may cost the taxpayer as much as permanent street construction.

There is increasing sentiment among real estate owners they should not be forced to pay the full amount. Dick Battles, owner of the West Side Variety store, and former Pettis County legislator, sounds a need for relief by the way of legislative equity at law. Commenting in last Friday's Democrat, he said that antiquated state laws are out of step with modern street improvement demands in a motorized age. He proposes that the state laws be changed so that the state pay one-third the cost, the city one-third from tax monies created by ownership and operation of automobiles, and the property owners affected by the improvements the remaining third.

This does not sound unreasonable in an atmosphere wherein there is public acceptance of the theory of federal and state subsidies for so many public enterprises.

This calls to mind recent comment by Edward Staples, executive director of the Missouri Public Expenditures Survey, who said that state subsidy of local government units has the same faults and hazards as its "big brother"—federal subsidy of state and local governments.

State and federal aids are useful devices in some areas, Staples says, but warned that subsidies, once started, almost inevitably get out of hand. This is because when local units of government seek solutions to their problems through subsidies from state or federal government, local officials are relieved of political accountability for raising the taxes to pay for the solutions. Such accountability is diluted and shifted to a more remote level of government.

"One of the greatest protections of soundness in public finances is the requirement that officials who decide on the expenditure policies also be required to bear the political responsibility for raising the tax dollars to supply the funds," Staples said. "In no other way can we strike a sound balance between the demand for public services and the people's willingness to pay for them."

He cautioned citizens to be alert to plausible-sounding claims that local government problems can be solved by subsidies and warned that state or federal subsidy is a more expensive solution than if the problems are solved at the local level. Because, he explained, to get subsidy legislation through the state legislature or Congress, the proposal must be made palatable to all. Thus money is provided for many governmental subdivisions for the purpose of gaining their support of the legislation rather than because of their demonstrated need or their inability to solve their own problems. Dispensing public money on the basis of something for all rather than on the basis of need impairs sound financing, he said.

A sound rule for assessing responsibilities, Staples said, is: The federal government should not do what the states can do for themselves, the states should not do what local governments can do for themselves and no government should do what the individual can do for himself.

Nevertheless, the trend toward subsidies has ardent supporters and we see its practice on every hand as an example of public acceptance. We need to look no farther than the Bothwell Hospital construction program in Sedalia, and the popular Urban Area plan of highway construction eagerly sought and obtained elsewhere except in Sedalia.

Until better methods are devised for solving these problems and those involving local street improvements, the people will probably offer less and less resistance to the subsidy idea.

Currently Sedalia's streets are so far into the ruts, the community cannot wait for new state legislation. That's why we must live with the 60-cent law this year and maybe next until some other solution is provided. And the latter will not come without thought-provoking study and discussion which, having been initiated, should continue by all who are concerned with Sedalia's welfare.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Adams Gave Goldfine Name of Attorney

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—When Bernard Goldfine came to Washington to confer with Sherman Adams last May and registered under an assumed name at the Sheraton-Carlton Hotel, he borrowed the last name of the manager of the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel in Boston. This is the hotel where Sherman Adams rolled up some $2,000 worth of hotel bills in several different rooms which he claimed he thought were Goldfine's regular suite.

The name under which Goldfine registered in at the Sheraton-Carlton in Washington was "Bernard Sawyer." Manager Sawyer of Boston has since been complaining that Goldfine used his name but didn't even give him a vicuna coat.

Adams' Unofficial Counsel
Jim Hagerty denied with vigor and determination this week reports that Adams had been masterminding Goldfine's legal defense. Chalk up another error for Hagerty. Here are the real facts.

Goldfine came to Washington under an assumed name in May to warn Adams that the Washington Merry-Go-Round column was investigating him and that this might well lead to opening up the probe of the Harris committee, up to that point dormant.

Following the column of May 13, the Harris

Guest Editorial

CAPE GIRARDEAU MISSOURIAN: Highway Fund Slicing. Another urban versus rural struggle may have been set off by the new federal highway law, designed as an anti-recession measure.

The crux is that the new measure does not stipulate how an additional $400 million for road building shall be divided between primary, secondary and urban roads.

In the past two formulas were listed in highway laws — 1. states were required to match the funds on a 50-50 basis. 2. States were required to spend 45 per cent of combined funds on primary roads, 30 per cent on secondary roads, and 25 per cent on city streets.

The National Grange says, "This means that states can spend the $400 million plus their own matching funds any way they desire."

In alarm the Grange continues, "Municipal officials have been advised that this provision of the emergency measure provides an opportunity for a marked increase in funds allocated to street and urban road construction; they have been advised to press for consideration of their needs."

The Grange release winds up, "Unless rural America gets on the ball and acts immediately, it will be too late."

Well, it all depends on which side of the road you live, apparently. In the past rural-dominated legislatures in most states have let little of the highway user revenues, such as gasoline tax money, return to the cities. So while the Grange and other farm organizations haul out their artillery, they should not be amazed that city officials are already firing away.

East German Communists Tag Themselves

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It is no longer just an American, Secretary of State Dulles, who is calling the East German Communists blackmailers. They themselves have made it indisputable that they are both blackmailers and second-raters.

An East German spokesman said Wednesday the nine American soldiers held captive 26 days since their helicopter wandered there would be released at once if the United States would recognize the East German government.

The United States, allied with West Germany, has refused to recognize the East German Communist government as legitimate. The American position is that the East German Communists are not a government but the puppets of the Russians.

At a news conference set up by the German Reds, the American captives Wednesday told newsmen they accidentally landed in East Germany the East German police first took them to Soviet army officials, not to East Germans.

This action by the East German police was tacit admission that the Russians, not the East German Communists, were the sovereign power in East Germany. The East Germans have been pretending they are sovereign and should be recognized by us.

After repeated requests the East Germans invited AP's Berlin correspondent Seymour Topping, and eight newsmen who represent European Communist newspapers to a conference with the American prisoners.

How the East German Reds came to do this—in view of what developed and the position it put them in the eyes of the world—is almost unbelievable for its stupidity and clumsiness.

The Russians, after the American prisoners were delivered to them by the East German police, turned them back to the East Germans. Russia since has insisted the problem of releasing them involve the United States and the East Germans.

This was an apparent effort to force American recognition of the East German regime. Dulles branded these tactics blackmail Tuesday at his news conference.

Dulles took this position: "I can't think of anything that would be worse than, in effect, to pay blackmail to get people out. 'We are willing to use any proper methods to get them out short of paying blackmail. If we started doing that, then that would only encourage further efforts to use Americans as hostages.'"

Nation's Mental Illnesses Need Attack On Wide Front

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

A good deal of information is contained in a 30-page pamphlet entitled "Basic Facts About Mental Illness," kindly sent to me by the National Association for Mental Health.

Most mental illness, the booklet points out, falls into two major groups: the psychoses and the neuroses.

The person with a psychosis behaves irrationally and has lost touch with reality. Essentially this is the same as being insane.

The largest group of mental illnesses are the neuroses. Victims maintain contact with reality. But the results of this contact are faulty. The most important feature of a neurosis is generally increased anxiety and tension.

The most common of the psychoses are schizophrenia (split personality), manic-depressive psychosis, cerebral arteriosclerosis, senile psychosis and involutional psychosis.

These in turn demonstrate a wide variety of symptoms. Their classification is highly technical. Treatment for a mental disorder is approached from three directions:

Changing the environment so as to alter or remove as many elements as possible which provoke or aggravate the illness.

Attempting to influence the illness by attacking the patient's thoughts and emotions by such methods as individual psychotherapy, psychoanalysis, play therapy and group treatment.

Attacking the illness through working on the machinery of the patient's actions, feelings and

This country, allied with Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government on Formosa, has refused to recognize the Chinese Communist government on the mainland as the legitimate government of China.

The Chinese Reds had held 40 Americans prisoners. Although this country did not recognize them, it nevertheless carried on long negotiations with the Chinese Reds to get the prisoners released. All but four are now free.

This country will probably attempt to follow the same course in seeking the release of the nine The American position is that the American soldiers now in East Germany.

thoughts with the aim of changing or correcting the disturbed functioning of these organs.

Included in the latter group are shock therapy, psychosurgery, treatment with drugs and sedatives. This last includes the use of the tranquilizers about which readers have lately heard so much. In connection with treatment, it should be pointed out also that all of these lines of attack are becoming increasingly effective.

It has been estimated that about one person in every ten in America is suffering from some mental or emotional disorder which needs psychiatric treatment.

Many of these are mild, of course. But on any one day of the year there are about 750,000 patients in our mental institutions.

In spite of the increased recovery rate, more than 300,000 people will be admitted for the first time to a mental hospital this year.

The problem of mental illness—preventing it or treating it—is certainly one of the most challenging facing our society.

The penalty we pay in suffering, in the care of the mentally ill and in the loss from productive work is staggering.

In the light of these facts the expenditure of only about 27 million dollars in 1957 for research is a drop in the bucket. This sum should be greatly increased.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

"On, beautiful for spacious skies," begins the hymn which we sing about "America, the Beautiful." Somehow these spacious skies are becoming less than spacious. They are not expansive enough to contain all of the man-made ships of commerce, ships of war and ships of scientific exploration. The skies will be even more congested with traffic if international conflict should again beset the world.

Too many lives are lost in these chartless skies. Too many planes criss-cross the lanes of each other. Too much human error has blurred the beauty of the sky blue heavens. We must cut this limitless space into skyways as we have channeled out highways from the mountains and as we have ribboned the plains with roads.

As we take over more of God's universe for man's use, we must pray constantly for wisdom to establish safeguards against man's misuse of God's universe.

Matter of FACT

Gerardus Mercator, a Flemish mathematician and geographer, became the father of modern map making with a collection of maps he prepared. On the title page of Mercator's work, published after his death in 1595, was the figure of the mythological giant Atlas, who, according to Greek fable, bore the heavens on his shoulders. From then on a collection of maps was called an "Atlas."

Big Show In New Mexico

Army Versus The Air Force In Race to Reach the Moon

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Of Our Washington Bureau

FT. BLISS, TEXAS—The race for the moon is underway. It's the Army versus the Air Force.

Army Secretary Wilber Brucker says his service has the go ahead. He predicts a Jupiter missile, the Army's pride, will be used when the shot is made. He said so after the Army had staged the first act of its multimillion, two-day show at the White Sands Range, just to the north in New Mexico.

With this show the Army, for the first time, has projected itself into competitive orbit with the Air Force and Navy. The competition is for a bigger bit of the defense budget.

The Army's sister services have long enjoyed the vigorous support of a mobilized and articulate industrial base in the scramble for defense dollars on Capitol Hill. Congressmen with Navy yards and air craft plants in their districts, but who still favor economy, have followed their conscience by backing cuts in the Army budget.

At this show, and participating contractors are picking up the tab for newsmen, the Army has mobilized its industrial base. Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, RCA, these are a few of the firms doing business with the Army that are represented here.

By mobilizing all the contractors the Army will have a better chance of impressing Congressmen that a cut in the Army budget will adversely affect their constituents. That's part of the reason for the show. But it would be unfair to the Army to say no more.

It's up to the Army, primarily, to defend the United States from enemy planes with A-bombs. The Nike-Ajax, and one of these gizmos may be spotted in your area soon, is an Army defensive device. That was demonstrated for spectators here at the show.

The Nike-Ajax roared away at the McGregor Range of the White Sands test area. An old World War II B-17 was the drone target and it got hit very impressively.

Equally impressive was the Honest John missile. It's a rocket, on which a nuclear warhead can be attached. It thunders off and smacks its target 5½ miles away on the nose. Through field glasses you could follow the whole shot.

And there's the Corporal. This is a missile that's guided through half its flight. It's spotted about half a mile before the observers, and takes off with a tummy-shaking swoosh. The Texas air is very clear and after an appreciable wait there's a mushrooming cloud of smoke at the point of impact. 31 miles away. The Corporal missile fired was 48 feet left, and 12 feet short, of target.

All of this is a change for Ft. Bliss and White Sands. This was once headquarters for Col. Ronald MacKenzie and his 1st Cavalry.

This was the outfit that chased Indians all over the Southwest. Successfully. George Custer achieved immortality by being wiped out. But MacKenzie has been forgotten. What the Army has lost would have simplified his job.

'Millions for Defense' Inadequate

Some Old and Popular U.S. Slogans Need Revising

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Some of our most revered slogans look a little strange on this July 4th.

1. The United States once proclaimed: millions for defense but not one cent for tribute.

Now we spend not millions for defense but billions. And 76 American servicemen and businessmen are detained in Communist China, the Soviet part of Armenia, the Russian occupied part of Germany, and the rebel held part of Cuba.

The ugly word "tribute" hasn't been mentioned but our State Department does talk about blackmail and some see little difference in meaning.

2. Grandmother used to plug hard for a safe and sane Fourth. Her aim was to see that as few grandchildren as possible lost their fingers playing with firecrackers.

Casualties from fireworks probably and fortunately will be relatively few Friday. But what grandmother didn't foresee was the astoundingly prolific nature of the American automobile. It will kill or maim scores of persons over the holiday weekend while the Americans congratulate themselves on observing a safe and sane Fourth by banning firecrackers.

3. The law of supply and demand was once regarded as inviolate as any in the land. By it, prices went up when demand exceeded supply and went down when supply exceeded demand.

But the government tinkers with that right along now. It tries to spur demand by such things as making it easier and cheaper to borrow money with which to buy. It tinkers with supply by such things as buying surplus metals for its own stockpile or by taking over excess farm supplies.

4. Let the buyer beware was a slogan when the republic was young. Now there are a number of regulatory agencies devoted to seeing that the buyer gets what he thinks he's buying. This runs all the way from meat at the butcher shop to new stock issues on Wall Street.

5. A free economy is still one of our dearest boasts. But a multitude of federal and local laws and a growing number of commissions and agencies touch almost every businessman somehow, from his franchise to do business to his pricing policies and his relationship with his workers.

6. Back when the first July 4 was a very fresh memory in this land, President Washington spoke about the wisdom of the United States minding its own business and letting other nations mind theirs.

Now it's hard to put your finger on any spot on the globe where Uncle Sam isn't involved in one way or another.

This isn't to say that President Washington mightn't approve if he were here this July 4. It's just to point out that the old slogans, good as they still may be, just aren't applied the same way any more.

St. Louis Khoury Champs Battle A's Twice On 4th

Day-Night Twinbill at Park; Lady Pilots Sedalia Foes

The Sedalia Athletics will cross bats with one of the leading semi-pro teams from the St. Louis area at Liberty Park in a day-night doubleheader tomorrow. The Ballwin Cardinals will take on the A's in an afternoon contest that will get underway at 1:45 and the two teams will clash again at 8 o'clock in the nightcap.

Manager Vint Siegel could be exercising sound judgment if he takes the Sedalians aside and sharpens them on a few P's and Q's prior to the big holiday battle against the Ballwin nine.

In this instance the P's stand for PLAYS and the Q's for QUIPS often overheard from the confines of the dug-out.

This advance warning comes because the St. Louisans are well on their way to winning the third Meramec Khoury League championship and because a very remarkable lady will be present—and on the field—as manager of the big city aggregation.

The Cardinals, boasting a squad of players under 25, have won ten of 12 games this season and are tied for the leadership in the Khoury League—one of the toughest loops in Eastern Missouri. The team has been playing as a unit for five seasons under the guidance of Mrs. Dorothy Mulvaney—the "Mrs. Baseball" of St. Louis according to the Globe Democrat.

A feature story recently appeared in St. Louis papers about Mrs. Mulvaney. It is partially reprinted as follows:

"Those who believe a woman knows nothing at all about driving automobiles also believe she knows nothing at all about baseball.

"To them the female mind is incapable of figuring out who's on first and why. To them, we offer Mrs. Dorothy Mulvaney of Ballwin. Dorothy is not only the manager of the championship Ballwin Cardinals; she is baseball commissioner of the Meramec Khoury Association which is comprised of 27 teams with 15 players each, the only woman to hold such a position in the St. Louis area.

"A graying, plumpish housewife, she admits that when she first became interested in the Khoury program in 1953, her knowledge of the game was limited, but she was never a dunce on matters of the diamond.

"My husband Herbert has always been a baseball fan," Dorothy said, "but I really learned what I know by reading books and watching my sons. You might think that men wouldn't take the word of a woman in a game like baseball, but I have never had a bit of trouble with them. They are gentlemen."

"Mr. Mulvaney is as interested as his wife and she says she couldn't do the job without him. Often, when he comes home from work, he practices with her team until dark."

Mrs. Mulvaney started managing many of her present players in her first season at the helm. Instead of remaining with a team in a set age group, she maintained the managerial position with the Cardinals, adding new and better players through the years to meet the stiffer competition of Senior Khoury Leagues, and has led two teams to the title. Her club has never finished lower than third place.

Mrs. Mulvaney, who has two baseball playing sons now serving in the Air Force, is an extremely gracious woman. In commenting on the team, she said, "I am indeed proud of my team. The players are from a splendid group of young men and it has been a privilege to work with them. I am sending you information about our club, but I do not deserve the credit which writers have given me. However, I would like to have the pleasure of passing the credit to those who deserve it and that is my husband and the hundreds of players and officials who have worked along with me in Khoury Leagues, Inc."

For tomorrow's game the A's will have Bobby Brown, Elroy Burton and Dave Johnson ready for duty, with Sonny Thomas set for relief.

The Athletics got off to a good start in the second half of the Missouri Valley ABC League Tuesday night by topping the defending Missouri Semi-Pro Champs, Columbia VFW, in a 6-3 contest at Liberty Park. Big Bill George hurled a seven-hit win and led the A's scoring assault with four straight hits.

By BILL CASPER

I was an out-and-out hooker. That isn't unusual, for most golfers who develop a par game usually hit from right to left.

They swing the clubhead too much from inside-out, causing the hook.

It soon became apparent that I would do better if I could achieve a left-to-right flight. I would wind up in less trouble.

The principal thing a golfer must do to eliminate a hook is get the left hip out of the way on the downswing and especially at impact.

I weakened my left hand position in the grip. I now place the left thumb so that it points straight down the shaft instead of on the right side.

I am still not conscious of pouring any extra power into the shot with my right hand. I am not conscious of my hands at all in the swing.

I just make sure I have the correct grip.

I opened my stance so that the left foot is drawn back from the line of flight.

I adopted a more upright swing. I stay "under" the shot more now. As I hit the ball I keep the clubhead moving directly toward the target for as long as possible.

Of course my wrists eventually turn over, but not as quickly as do those of the hooker.

Miller Pitches No-Hit Shutout For Ice Victory

Young Ronnie Miller showed the big-leaguers how to do it as he hurled a no-hit shutout victory for the Sedalia Ice Club and crushed Adco 14-0 in last night's second game at Liberty Park.

The first man to face Miller, Adco shortstop Burnett, drew a walk from him. Burnett was safe on an error in the third. Aside from these two base runners Miller threw a perfect game. Facing only 14 men, he fanned five and allowed no ball to be hit out of the infield. Coming from a family of baseball players, of which Bobby Case is his uncle, he had a perfect three-for-three night at the plate.

Meredith, the losing pitcher, allowed 11 hits, three walks and fanned seven. Ice right-fielder Lindquist and first sacker Greer also had a perfect night at the plate.

This was the third no-hitter for Ice this season. All told, a fine pitching exhibition by Miller.

In the first game the Jaycees downed Post 16, 21-7. Short the winner, allowed six hits and four walks and had good control all the way. Clifford and Bain, Post right fielder and pitcher, had two-for-two and two-for-three respectively. Bain, the loser, allowed 18 hits, five walks, and was hit for four errors. Short, Parker and Hudson had three hits each for Jaycees.

Adco edged out Post 16-3 in a close one in the minors, 10-9. Winning pitcher Wear allowed four hits and ten walks, and helped himself at the plate with a home run. Sharp, the losing hurler, gave up nine hits and two walks. Hoeman, Sharp, Jones and Hurley collected the four Post hits. Pierce had a perfect night for Adco.

In the second game Diefenbach emerged the victorious hurler as Post 16-A squeaked by Adco-A, 2-1. He allowed five hits, one walk and one run coming in the first inning. Losing pitcher Thomas was headed for a shutout victory until the fourth inning, when Post took advantage of three hits and scored two runs. This was sufficient for the victory. Thomas allowed only four hits, no walks and fanned eight.

Red Sox Have Joined Western Movement

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox have joined the westward movement—at least as far as spring training is concerned.

After 25 years at Sarasota, Fla., the Sox will have their spring camp at Scottsdale, Ariz., in 1959. General Manager Joe Cronin made the announcement Wednesday.

Cards Reject A Success On Redlegs Staff

By ED WILKS

Associate Press Sports Writer You can file Brooks Lawrence in that thin folder titled "Bad Deals by Frank Lane."

The big right-hander, plucked from the minors by Cincinnati after the St. Louis Cardinals had given up on him, has been the ace of the Redleg pitching staff since, running up a 41-26 record in 2½ seasons.

Lawrence won his fifth in a row, all complete games, last night with a four-hitter that returned the Redlegs to fourth place in the National League with a 1-0 decision over first place Milwaukee.

The Braves' lead was trimmed to three games again over St. Louis and San Francisco as the third place Giants defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-2 in the only other NL game scheduled.

In the American League the New York Yankees defeated Baltimore 4-1 as Zack Monroe won in his starting debut. Detroit blanked

Kansas City 5-0 on Jim Bunning's four-hitter, and Washington defeated Boston 5-3 despite Ted Williams' hitting. Those were the only AL games scheduled.

Lawrence, 33, the Bull of the Cardinal bullpen when he had a 15-6 record in 1954, was traded to the Reds by Lane, then general manager for the Cards, for pitcher Jackie Cullum in January, 1956. He promptly won 19 for the Redlegs in their near-miss pennant rush of '56. Last year he was 16-13.

Now he's 6-3 with one hit after the giving up just one hit after the third inning at Milwaukee in a dandy duel with young Joey Jay, who lost with a five-hitter.

The Braves beat the Reds 1-0 Tuesday night on Lew Burdette's eight-hitter.

Jay is now 1-3 with his third consecutive defeat.

The Giants moved within .001 of a percentage point of the Cardinals as Dick Drott lost his fifth in a row for a 3-6 record. Stu Miller won it for a 2-4 record.

T&C Girls Crush Glasgow Squad, 18-3

Town and Country girls softball team once again emerged the victor in last night's game against Glasgow, 18-3.

Earlene Walz pitched two innings and allowed one run, giving her credit for the win. She now has a 4-1 seasonal record. Appleman relieved her in the third and gave up only two more runs to Glasgow.

T&C collected a total of 16 hits of which centerfielder Morris had three and Dorothy Rayl two, a three-run homer and a triple.

Hackman was the losing pitcher for Glasgow. The club collected five hits. The Town & Country's overall record stands at 5 and 2. There will be no more games until after the Independence Day holiday.

Anyone desiring to schedule a game with the team should contact Manager Ray Holman or Ernie Crum.

Drag-Ons Complete Friday's Dance Plans

The Sedalia Drag-Ons held their weekly meeting at the courthouse Tuesday night and completed plans for a "record hop" to be held Friday evening at Convention Hall.

On Sunday, July 6, the Drag-Ons plan to attend the Missouri Regional drags in Kansas City. There will be competition from all over Missouri and several surrounding states.

The Drag-Ons, for the past few weeks, have turned their attention to the record hop which they hope will raise sufficient funds to liquidate some bills and to finance some equipment of which the club is in dire need. The dance begins at 8 p.m. and will end at midnight. Price of admission is 75 cents stag and one dollar drag.

Indians Baseball Era Ends As Lemon Leaves Wigwam

CLEVELAND (AP)—The last of the Cleveland Indians' once famed "Big Four" is leaving the wigwam, and a baseball era here was ended.

The last to go is Robert Granville Lemon, the Californian with an impish grin and a sinking fast ball that made him a 20-game winner in seven seasons. Waivers were asked on him yesterday and he plans to leave Saturday for San Diego in the Pacific Coast League.

The first to go was Bob Feller who retired after a 1956 season in which he didn't win a game and lost four.

Last month Mike Garcia was waived out of the league. He is recovering from back surgery in St. Vincent's Charity Hospital.

Still pitching, but not for Cleveland, is Early Wynn whose current 3-6 record for the White Sox includes a 5-4 relief triumph over the Tribe in Chicago Tuesday.

Wynn and Garcia joined Feller and Lemon and the Tribe in 1949, and from that season through 1954, when the Indians won 111 games and a pennant, the Big Four averaged 71½ victories a season. Feller, past his peak as a fireballer, chipped in with 85; Garcia, whose earned-run averages of 2.35 in 1949 and 2.37 in 1952 were lowest among the four, contributed 194 victories; Wynn won 112; and Lemon's total of 128 was the tops.

An operation that took 20 pieces of cartilage out of Lem's right elbow last winter failed to restore the old magic to his pitching arm. His lone 1958 game of record was a defeat, making his lifetime record 207-128. In the 25 1-3 innings he worked, he was so clobbered his earned-run average was 5.33.

Fugitive Sea Lion Is Honorary Citizen

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Cyril, the fugitive sea lion being returned to the London, Ont., zoo Sunday, will remain an honorary citizen of Toledo.

City Council voted unanimously to give him that honor. Before going back to his original owners, the slippery mammal will be given a glass key to this glassmaking center. A similar key will go to the director of Storybrook Gardens in London.

The sea lion escaped from London June 17, swimming through several bodies of water before capture off Sandusky Bay in western Lake Erie last Friday. The Toledo zoo claimed possession, later yielded.

Standard of Living Is Worse, Says Daoud

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Prime Minister Sardar Mohammed Daoud says the standard of living in his little Communist-bordered country of Afghanistan is "worse than it has been in any age."

"We do not feel ashamed," he said at a reception in his honor, adding Afghanistan's low living.

standard was due solely to the fact the country has been opposing steadfastly all British, Persian and Russian efforts to dominate it. "It is not the result of anything except our struggle for freedom and independence," he said proudly.

Salute to a LIFELINE

Our food industry is one of the wonders of the modern world. Before food in the field becomes fare on your table it must be harvested, inspected, processed, packaged and distributed. This is the lifeline of America.

Watching over this lifeline is the Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc., a group of over 400 leading food companies. The GMA and others in the food business are constantly searching for ways to make your food better and more convenient to buy.

This year the GMA reaches its 50th birthday. The newspaper industry salutes the Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc., for contributing so much to our high standard of living.

Probably nothing has changed more than the food field in giving so many new things to the American family. New products mean news. The best way to carry that news is in food ads and features appearing in the pages of your daily newspaper—another vital strand in the golden lifeline that nourishes the nation.

Sound Shakes Crowd More Than Sermon

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—A minister and those who use the heavens reached an agreement. The U.S. Air Force gave the Rev. Bob Jackson — under certain circumstances — the right to tell it when its planes could fly and when they couldn't.

The little, rural Community Baptist Church didn't mind at first when Dyess Air Force Base aimed its runway at the small, long-established church building. After all, propeller-driven planes don't make too much noise.

Then came the jets. The base added more and more craft.

After a few Sundays of sitting there, more shaken by sound than sermon, the congregation's leaders told the air base authorities their woes.

The Air Force sent a couple of officers to listen to a sermon. They agreed it was a deafening experience.

The Air Force agreed to telephone the Rev. Mr. Jackson and ask permission for mass flights to take off except in emergencies.

One night the pastor received a call from a major in charge of a flight of 15 planes from another base.

"Say," the major shouted, "the tower tells me I've got to clear with you before I can take off."

The Rev. Mr. Jackson patiently explained the agreement.

"Well," said the major, haltingly, "is it all right if we leave?"

He got permission.

But the agreement didn't pan out. During a recent revival 27 jets were forced to take off in a 30-minute period in the middle of services. The pastor described the visiting evangelist as a nervous wreck.

When the first huge KC135 jet tanker came over, the deacons ran up a white flag and broke ground for a new church three miles from the runway.

Vanderbilt Will Not Increase Alimony

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Patricia Wallace Vanderbilt has lost a court action to compel her former husband, Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., to increase her weekly alimony from $250 to $500.

However, State Supreme Court Justice Julius J. Gans, in rejecting the petition, ruled that Vanderbilt must pay all her medical expenses.

Mrs. Vanderbilt testified three years ago that in 1951 Vanderbilt threw her in a bathtub with such force that she suffered injuries requiring her to wear an orthopedic brace. He divorced her in Nevada in 1953.

Affidavits from physicians and dentists, the court said, indicated that treatments would amount to about $10,000.

Dispute of Property Makes Land for Sale

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Laundryman Lee Wing and wife sold right-of-way property to the city of Charlotte for $9,500 so a street could be widened.

Later the Wings decided to put up a laundry building on their property. One corner encroached on city property in a triangle seven feet by three inches.

The city attorney suggested the City Council agree to let the corner stay where it is. But Councilman Steve Dellinger argued the city had paid plenty for the property and the Wings could buy part of it back.

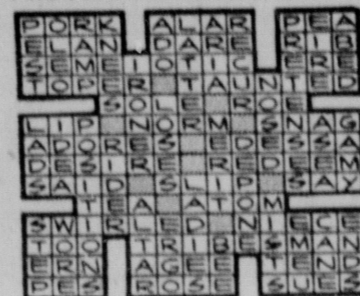

The triangle now is advertised for sale.

Sea Saying
The expression "to spin a yarn" is from the sea, where sailors were in the habit of talking endlessly while making spun yarn from untwisted rope hemp.

Antibiotic After-Effect
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Antibiotics not only kill germs, a Michigan State University professor has found, they also kill and inhibit bacteria which prevent fungus diseases.

This leaves the body susceptible to fungus diseases, said Dr. E. S. Beneke. Familiar forms of fungi are athlete's foot and ringworm, but more serious are internal fungus infections. Ways of curing fungus infections have been developed, Dr. Beneke said, but are not completely satisfactory.

Helicopter Passengers Jeer East Germany's Sovereignty

EDITOR'S NOTE — The East German Foreign Ministry yesterday answered repeated requests by the AP's Berlin correspondent for a news conference with the nine U.S. Army men held since June 7. He and eight European Communist reporters were driven to the villa in Dresden, 100 miles south of Berlin, where the men are under house arrest. The AP man was the only American reporter.

DRESDEN, East Germany (AP) — "We'll sweat it out as long as it takes."

This pledge came from Maj. George E. Kemper, the senior officer and spokesman for nine U.S. Army men who turned themselves in to East German police June 7 after they got lost on a helicopter flight in West Germany and ran out of gas behind the Iron Curtain. Negotiations for their release are deadlocked.

The soldiers complained at a news conference staged by East German officials yesterday that they are being held as political hostages. "We have been treated courteously," Kemper added.

The 43-year-old artillery officer from Escondido, Calif., was able to speak to me alone for only a few minutes.

As East German officials stopped back for picture taking, Kemper hurriedly asked what was being done by the United States to obtain their release. Their only source of information has been East German newspapers.

I told him of State Department demands on Russia for their immediate release, of statements by Secretary of State Dulles of President Eisenhower's interest, and of U.S. refusal to sign an agreement with East Germany which might imply recognition of the Red regime.

"That's enough for us," Kemper said. "You can tell them we'll sweat it out as long as it takes." His lean, tense face broke into a grin.

Speaking for the other seven officers and one sergeant, Kemper said, "We are soldiers and we can stay here indefinitely, but we want to know what is going on."

Alexander Gruettner, the East German Foreign Ministry official who ran the news conference, said the United States should sign a protocol similar to the one by which Belgium won release of a jet pilot who strayed into East Germany May 29.

The American captives hooted at Gruettner's statement that East Germany is a sovereign state.

"You're a sovereign state, but not on the first night that we were in East Germany," shouted Capt. Frank Athanason of Greenville, S.C. He said the East Germans first turned them over to the Russians.

Gruettner reported that the procedure was normal under Germany's troop-stationing agreement with Russia.

"Yeah," responded Athanason, "mutual agreement or were you getting instructions?"

The State Department is demanding that Russia release the Americans under the Big Four occupation agreement making the Soviets responsible for protecting Western interests in East Germany. Russia replies that this is a case for the East Germans to settle.

Kemper gave this account of what had happened to the nine: The helicopter was on a routine flight from Frankfurt to a West German training area near the Iron Curtain. They got lost and their radio wouldn't work so they landed twice to find out where they were. Someone told them East Germany.

"We started again," Kemper said. "But the helicopter ran out of gas. The pilot was forced to land."

"One of the officers went up to the highway and contacted the police. We waited until the police came. They turned us over to a Russian officer in a Russian camp."

After spending the night there, during which some of the Americans were questioned, the Russians returned them to the Germans.

The nine now are living comfortably in a once-elegant eight-room villa on a quiet, tree-lined street.

Grain Millers Resume Picket

Effort to Halt Strike Fails; Wheat Continues to Pile Up

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Grain handlers went back to their picket lines Thursday after time out to reject a new contract proposal by 15 terminal grain elevators in Kansas City.

Their action continued the strike, which began last Tuesday, and increased the backlog of freight cars loaded with wheat. Unofficial estimates indicated about 4,000 cars of new wheat are on the tracks.

Parking Fine Collection Boxes Placed

Ticket to Be Given For Each Hour That Car Stands Overtime

Meter collection boxes have been installed in Sedalia and the new system went into effect at noon Thursday. It is a system installed by the city for the convenience of the motorists.

Tickets now being issued for overtime parking are made in the form of an envelope in order for the motorists to insert a quarter for his or her overtime and to deposit it in one of the ten meter boxes.

This does away with the motorist having to go to police headquarters to pay for the ticket. Now it is only a short distance from any meter to a deposit box. In addition the time limit for parking only 25 cents is being extended from 25 minutes to 24 hours.

Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin said a new system entirely is to be followed for a 90-day trial. It is that for each hour a motorist is overtime, a ticket will be issued.

This means that if a ticket is issued and an hour later the meter officer finds the car with the ticket still on the windshield and no money in the meter, another ticket will be issued. This is intended to eliminate the practice of leaving a ticket on the windshield a day once one has been received, since the purpose of the fine and the meters is to maintain a flow of traffic.

The parking time has expired. Minimum fine for this violation is 25 cents if deposited within the next 24 hours. If not paid within this time limit an enforcement warrant will be issued and an assessment of $1 collected.

For Your Convenience
After detaching your ticket stub, place fine in envelope and deposit in any of the boxes installed on the parking standards.

Overparking
There will be an assessment of 25 cents for each additional hour that the vehicle remains in violation of parking regulations.

The parking collection boxes are painted red and are located on parking standards at the following locations:

Northeast corner of Main and Osage; southeast corner, Main and Ohio; southeast corner, Second and Ohio; northwest corner, Second and Ohio; southeast corner, (Please turn to page 4, Column 3)

Flood Hits Town Near Boonville; Homes Evacuated

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP) — A flash flood swept down on the nearby Franklin community early Wednesday forcing quick evacuation of many residents.

More than six inches of rain were reported in four hours in the community, which is across the Missouri river from Boonville. Sheriff Delgar Wells of Howard County said about 100 homes were flooded.

There were no reports of loss of life.

Members of the Service Battery of the 123th Field Artillery of the Missouri National Guard were called out with trucks and other equipment to help with the evacuation.

The flood left U. S. 40 open to one way traffic only.

Heavy rains on both the Little creek and Sulphur creek watersheds poured into the area. Six inches of rain fell at Fayette near the headwaters of Sulphur creek.

Sheriff Wells reported the flood crested about 4 a. m. He said the water was higher than in the 1951 flood on the Missouri river.

The levee on Fish creek went out about 1 A. M., flooding about 2,000 acres of land west of Glasgow. No lives were endangered.

CLOUDBURST INUNDATES IOWA TOWN—Flood waters from the East Nishnabotna River swirl over the western Iowa town of Exira after nearly 13 inches of rain fell in the area. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilkins were found in their flood-swept home at Exira and there were at least five known dead from the storm which lashed central and western Iowa with heavy rain and 70-mile-an-hour winds. One Exira woman survived a terrifying 30-mile ride down the river by clinging to debris. (AP Wirephoto).

Industrial Development Group Here

4 Representatives Of DeSoto Confer With C of C Members

More action on the Sedalia industrial development front Thursday afternoon found four representatives of the DeSoto Industrial Development Corp. in Sedalia to confer with members of the local Chamber of Commerce on industrial matters.

Jack Faber, executive secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, said the committee landed at Municipal Airport in the early afternoon and departed about 4 p. m.

The committee and members of the local chamber discussed ways of attracting industry to such cities as Sedalia and DeSoto, and the necessary facilities, raw materials and labor potential available in both communities. The committee is concentrating on the development in DeSoto and Jefferson County, and were attracted to Sedalia by the stepped-up industrial development program here.

They were accompanied on a tour of various Sedalia plants, including the National Engineering building, industrial park and the Precision Engineering Co. They were particularly impressed with the development of Precision Engineering, Sedalia's newest industry.

Members of the Committee were Harry Fitzgibbon, Walter Fimnick, Paul Polletti and Byron Schubel. They were prompted to find out about Sedalia's industrial development program as a result of the industrial meeting at Jefferson City in April, they attended.

A Family Reunion

GRANDPA TAKES A HAND—Balancing a package and holding the hand of granddaughter Mary Jean, 2, President Eisenhower walks ashore from the presidential cabin cruiser Barbara Anne at Washington, returning from a 2 1/2 hour cruise on the Potomac River to celebrate his 42nd wedding anniversary. Accompanying him on the cruise were Mrs. Eisenhower, their son, Maj. John Eisenhower, and his wife and four children. A Secret Service man is in foreground. The family had a picnic supper of hamburgers and potato salad as they sought to escape 90 degree heat. (AP Wirephoto).

Castro Hedging on Orders

Diplomatic Snag Hit In Hostage Release

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—A diplomatic snag was reported Thursday to be blocking the release of 45 kidnapped North Americans still held by Cuban guerrillas in the hills of eastern Cuba. Informants here hinted rebel leader Fidel Castro was hedging on orders to his men to free the captives.

The orders were broadcast Wednesday by Castro's headquarters in the mountains of Oriente province. The broadcast said because of poor communications the rebel leader had known nothing of the kidnapping of 47 Americans and 3 Canadians by guerrilla bands headed by his brother Raul.

"If that is the case their liberty is hereby ordered," the broadcast said.

Four Americans and one Canadian were flown out of the rebel country in a U. S. Navy helicopter after U. S. Consul Park Wollam spent several days talking with the rebels.

A helicopter was readied to take off from the U. S. Navy base at Guantanamo. But Associated Press correspondent Bob Clark reported from there that none had left for a jungle rendezvous to pick up more captives.

Usually informed sources here said Fidel Castro would not permit the second helicopter flight. They said a snag had developed in the U. S. consular negotiations with the rebels and that Castro had decided now to hold out for further negotiations. There was no report on what the snag was or what Castro wants to talk about.

These reports could not be confirmed at the U. S. Embassy here. Wollam conferred there with U. S. Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith.

One of the five released prisoners, Howard A. Roach of Watertown, N. Y., said Raul Castro was preparing a personal apology and explanation for the kidnappings.

Roach said the apology was being revised and typed when he left the rebel hideout Wednesday.

The rebel broadcast, giving a statement by Fidel Castro, said the North Americans probably were not hostages but observers.

Sent to Soviet Embassy in Britain

Anonymous Letter Proposes To Drop Bomb Near England

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Embassy Thursday night said it had received an anonymous letter in which a man who claimed to be an American pilot proposed to drop an atomic bomb "not very far from the coast of England."

The official Soviet news agency, Tass, said the letter to the Soviet ambassador Jacob Malik, had been handed over to the British Foreign Office.

The U. S. Embassy's first reaction was: "We think the letter is a fake." The British Foreign Office also is understood to consider the letter a fake by the writer—not by the Soviet Embassy.

Wheat Futures Hit Normal Slide At Harvest Time

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat futures prices hit their usual harvest-time slide again Thursday on the board of trade but other grains also were weak as dealers backed away from making any large commitments over the three-day holiday weekend.

The heaviest pressure hit the wheat pit in the last hour of trading after word came that the strike of grain handlers in Kansas City might go unsettled over the weekend.

Since railroads have embargoed further wheat shipments to their already clogged yards in Kansas City, dealers expect much of the grain to be diverted to other terminals with big supplies probably coming to Chicago.

The strike against all but one Kansas City elevator came with the winter wheat harvest at its peak.

Cash prices of wheat in Kansas Thursday hit their lowest prices in 14 years, as predicted recently by the Department of Agriculture, because of the largest winter crop of record.

Wheat closed 3/4 cent a bushel lower, July $1.81-81 1/4; corn unchanged to 2 1/2 cents lower, July $1.32-32 1/4; oats 2 lower to 1/2 higher, July 64 1/2; rye unchanged to 1/2 higher, July $2.24-24 1/2; lard unchanged to 12 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $12.30.

Goldfine Testifies He Gave Money Gifts To White House Workers

Prober Says Biggest Gift About $150

Millionaire Says They Were Yule Gifts To Poor Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bernard Goldfine testified Thursday he gave gifts of money to White House and congressional employees, Republican and Democrats.

Boston millionaire Goldfine said these were only $25 to $50 Christmas presents "to some of the poor workers who work in different offices." But a House subcommittee investigator, Francis X. McLaughlin, said he believes the biggest gift came to about $150.

The House subcommittee investigating Goldfine's affairs listed 33 persons as recipients.

One was identified, despite variance in spelling, as Eugene T. Kinnaly, administrative assistant to the House Democratic leader, Rep. John McCormack (Mass.). Kinnaly promptly said he got no cash, but some fancy foods and the like.

The White House acknowledged that two names on the list are of secretaries who work there—one of them assigned to Goldfine's close friends Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's top assistant.

Adams himself has received four-figure hospitality and gifts from Goldfine.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said both the women acknowledged receiving from Goldfine Christmas checks ranging from $35 to $75.

Hagerty said Miss Laura G. Sherman, No. 2 secretary to Adams, got $75 from Goldfine last Christmas as her only check from him. The other one named was Mrs. Helen Colle, assigned to Thomas E. Stephens, Eisenhower's appointments secretary. Hagerty said she has been receiving checks from Goldfine every year since 1950, in the Truman administration.

Another on the list of Goldfine remembered was identified as a stenographer, Mary Ryan, workbench for the House Commerce Committee of which the investigating group itself is a branch.

The subcommittee chairman, Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.), told newsmen meanwhile that mysterious phone callers have been inquiring about him of residents in his district. He said he has heard rumors that lawyers and public relations men were trying to intimidate his committee.

"I've not considered it as yet an attempt to intimidate me," Harris said. "There must be some purpose, but I have no information as to what the intention is behind such calls."

Foreign Students

City Greet Arriving Field Service Group

A bus load of students representing 14 different nations arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil McLaughlin at 5 p. m. Thursday to begin a three-day visit to Sedalia and Whiteman AFB.

The students, who have completed a year of high school work in the Midwest under the U. S. Field Service Exchange Program, arrived from Salina, Kan., where they toured the nation's "breadbasket" and Schilling AFB. The group includes 30 students.

Sedaliaans who have volunteered to house the students during their stay here met the bus and were introduced to the students they will keep in their homes until Saturday. Tullis-Hall Dairy furnished ice cream, which was served to the students upon their arrival.

The students will spend about half of their time here between community activities and the homes in which they are staying. Homes with a youth aged approximately the same as the student were selected to accommodate the visitors.

Agree to Share Secrets

US Pledges to Help Britain Build A-Subs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States pledged Thursday to help Britain build atomic submarines under a sweeping agreement restoring their sharing of nuclear weapons secrets.

At the same time, Secretary of State Dulles promised immediate help to France in obtaining atomic submarines which Premier de Gaulle wants to modernize the French navy.

Dulles talked over the French situation with President Eisenhower for two hours before flying to Paris for a round of talks with Gen. de Gaulle on a variety of problems—the Middle East, Russia and atomic.

His most pressing discussion appeared to be aimed at learning whether France is determined to push ahead alone to develop its own atomic bombs as some diplomatic reports have hinted.

The French would be expected to oppose any end to atomic testing, even with ironclad inspection guarantees, until De Gaulle decided how to move in this field.

The British-American atomic partnership agreement, signed at the White House by Dulles, gave Britain a preferred position in obtaining U. S. atomic secrets. The two countries shared secrets during the World War II bomb development.

The law setting the groundwork for this renewed collaboration was signed by Eisenhower Wednesday. Under it, some highly confidential data may be given only to friendly countries which have already successfully exploded their own nuclear bombs. Britain is the only one to date.

France, in order to qualify for added U. S. data and help, would have to achieve substantial progress in weapons manufacture, including successful testing of its own bomb.

Eisenhower notified Congress that under the agreement with Britain a complete nuclear propulsion plant for a submarine would be turned over, as well as necessary nuclear fuel to operate the craft for 10 years.

Safety Council Estimates Traffic Deaths at 410

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The start of the July 4th weekend Thursday put long strings of cars on the highways.

The National Safety Council estimated that traffic accidents may cost 410 lives in the period that began at 6 p. m. local time Thursday and will end at midnight Sunday.

NSC figured 45 million cars will travel 12 billion miles during the 78-hour holiday period.

A study of background influences showed bad and good factors. Motor vehicle fatalities have been on the decline this year. For the first five months of 1958 the toll was 7 per cent below the total for the corresponding period of 1957.

But during the recent Memorial Day weekend 371 traffic deaths were reported—a record for a three-day observance of that holiday.

The weather, always a factor, was mixed. There were wet patches on the weather map at beginning of the Independence Day weekend. Rain and slippery roads usually flash a go-slow signal to drivers.

Sunny weather was forecast for most of the country for Friday. But rain was indicated for some parts of the South and Midwest in the afternoon or evening.

Voter Registration Deadline Is Monday

Voters have until closing time Monday to register for the Aug. 5 primary. Pettis County Clerk Jim Green said today. State law requires the registration books to be closed 23 days prior to an election, which sets July 7 as the deadline. Pettis County voters who have not previously registered should register at the county clerk's office prior to 5 p. m. Monday. Residents of other counties must register at their respective county courthouses.

Hear About Girls' Town

Lions Conduct Installation Of Officers on Wednesday

Thomas P. "Tom" Baker, was installed as the new president of the Sedalia Lions Club for 1958-59 at a ladies night meeting held Wednesday at the Bothwell Hotel. All other newly elected officers also were installed and received their official officer pins.

Mrs. Clarence W. Kemper, of the Clinton Eye, Clinton, was the principal speaker at the meeting, using as her subject "Missouri Girls Town". She originated the idea of a Girls Town for Missouri while she was the president of the Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs in 1952-54.

E. B. Smith, International Counselor, was in charge of the installation of officers and acted as master of ceremonies. Smith called upon past presidents to make presentations of 100-per cent attendance pins. They were Aaron Haller, Kenneth Buchholz, Dr. D. H. Robinson, Cline Cain and Robert Cain.

Those who received 100-per cent pins were: George James and Cline Cain, 18 years; D. Kelly Scruton, 14 years; Abe Silverman, 13 years; James McNeil, 12 years; Aaron Haller and Robert Cain, 11 years; Ken Leslie, John Ellison, A. B. Warren, Dr. D. H. Robinson, E. B. Smith and Kenneth Buchholz, eight years; Don King, seven years; Al Domingue and Jack Delph, six years; Dr. O. J. Dunnell, W. C. Ream, Ralph Becker, Russell Rhodes, Harry Goldberg, four years; Jim Atkinson, three years; and William "Bill" Hiatt and Eli Whitney, one year.

Smith presented to Tom Baker a five-year perfect attendance pin. Four Membership Keys were presented by D. Kelly Scruton, International Counselor, to President A. B. Warren, Kenneth Buch-holz, Harry Goldberg and President-elect Tom Baker.

Smith then made a presentation of a Master Key and plaque to Mayor Abe Silverman for obtaining 12 members for the local club.

Following the presentations the installation was conducted by International Counselor Smith. Smith reviewed duties of the officers of the club. He then called the newly-elected officers to the floor for presentation of their official pins.

The other officers are: Bob Cain and Jim Hobdy, members of the board of directors for two years; Jim Askren, Lion Tamer; Ray Baker, Lion Tail Twister; William O. "Bill" Hiatt, treasurer; Ralph Becker, secretary; Russell Rhodes, third vice-president; Don King, second vice-president; and George James, first vice-president.

Following the installation, President Warren called President Baker to the rostrum and presented the gavel of authority. Baker then presented to Warren a Past-President's pin.

At the opening of the meeting, Deputy District Governor Harry Goldberg announced the appointment of Dale Hunter as Chairman of Zone 2, Region 1, and presented the pin to Hunter to put in the lapel of Hunter's coat.

President Warren called upon the committee chairman for their annual reports: Al Domingue reported on finances; James McNeil, benevolence; Dr. David Robinson, sight conservation; Bill Hiatt, boys and girls activities; Dale Hunter reported for Frank Deady on Little League.

Warren called attention to the club activities of the past year. Main events were the American Royal Queen contest; fruit cake sale, money from which was earmarked for the Crippled Children's Center; basketball tournament; ice cream social; Lions Minstrel; and 20th anniversary meeting at which First Vice-President Lions International Dudley Sims was the speaker.

Guests introduced were Mrs. Charles Lyons, Lexington, Mo., a member of the board of directors of Girls Town, guest of the club; and Mrs. Oscar Nelson, Independence, guest of her brother-in-law Lion William Hiatt. Mrs. Kemper was introduced by President Warren.

Mrs. Kemper reviewed the beginning of Girls Town, comparing it with that of Boys Town at St. James, Mo., and the need today for such plans. She also pointed out Missouri's Girls Town, when opened, will be the first of its kind in the United States.

The opening is expected to be this fall, the decision on the exact date to be made at a board of directors meeting to be held this week. Mrs. Kemper said the Foundation purchased several years ago Cedar Hill Ranch at Mountain Grove, Mo. This consists of a beautiful home, additional buildings, and has approximately 40 acres of ground. It is located in Wright County, three miles north of Mountain Grove.

"It is our plan to start Girls Town by accepting girls between the ages of six and nine, creating a home-like atmosphere where little girls can be given love, direction and guidance surrounded with the aura of a real home and not an institution.

"With the help of the Missouri Welfare Department, it is also hoped to give the children who will be residents of Girls Town the psychiatric treatment that will help build them into normal, happy youngsters, who can be returned to their own home environment as well-adjusted, stable children. Where little girls are without homes or cannot wisely be returned to the ones they have, arrangements will be made for their continued residence at Girls Town.

"The Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs will continue to back its big undertaking but it is their hope, with the location decided upon, that many other people and organizations will become interested and contribute to the larger fund that will be necessary to pay salaries of a 'Mom' and 'Dad' and keep the Missouri Girls Town running, once it opens," Mrs. Kemper said.

Mrs. Kemper is also of the opinion that so much has been done for boys and so little in proportion for little girls, that she could think of no better way for the women to extend themselves than in this unselfish effort to help their kind.

Sun Porch Collapses; Young Mother Killed

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—For months Mrs. Irene House aired scatter rugs by hanging them on a sun porch railing at the rear of her second-floor duplex apartment.

As she started to drape a rug over the railing yesterday, the wooden structure collapsed. The 31-year-old mother of four children plunged 18 feet to the ground, striking a metal pipe. She died soon after arrival at a hospital.

Police took custody of the children—ages 6 months to 7 years—until their father, who was working in berry fields in western Oregon, arrives home.

Strong Winds Delay Study of Cosmic Rays

MOBERLY, Mo. (AP)—A study of cosmic rays at an altitude of 118,000 feet was delayed today when strong winds prevented the launching here of an unmanned balloon.

Dr. Frank McDonald, University of Iowa physicist and director of the testing program, said he hoped weather conditions would permit the launching tomorrow morning.

The polyethylene balloon, measures 200 feet from top to bottom, and will pack 200 pounds of scientific equipment. When the balloon reaches its 22-mile limit automatic timers will set off a dynamite cap, blowing the instruments free. They are expected to float back to earth by parachute.

Information gathered from the study will be made available to the International Geophysical Year committee.

FADING ART—S.M. (Tib) Hammonds, 55, night manager of the Joplin Western Union office, demonstrates an outdated profession—press telegraphy. He's listening to sounder, right, as he takes a message on his typewriter. The sending key is in center next to the typewriter. Hammonds started as a press telegrapher at the age of 14 at Marshall, Mo. These operators used to receive and copy national news. (AP Photo)

Joplin Man Recalls Glory Days

Colorful Era in Newspapers Closed By the Wire Service

By DAVE GREGG
Joplin Globe

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—Newspaper readers of today seldom give thought to the involved processes brought into play to bring the information.

It's hard to believe that only 30 odd years ago all national news that we read in local papers was received and copied by one phenomenally skilled press telegrapher.

The wire service has made the press telegrapher's profession obsolete, ending a colorful chapter of the American newspaper.

Fifty-five-year-old S. M. (Tib) Hammonds, now night manager of the Joplin Western Union office, is one of the old press telegraphers. His recollections of the glory days of press telegraphy provide a keen insight into the days when lunches were free and beer cost a nickel apiece, and men outranked machines in importance.

Hammonds, who was, to his knowledge, the youngest telegrapher in the business when he first broke in, fell in love with Morse code when still in grade school. He mastered the code while a member of a Boy Scout troop in his hometown of Mexico, Mo., in 1915.

A spark-gap wireless station that he operated in his basement took all of his spare time as a youngster.

Tib got his nickname when a boy in Larned, Kan., with whom he exchanged messages, altered Hammonds' call letters which were 9TB. The Kansas stuck an "I" between the "T" and the "B" and dropped the "9," and the nickname has remained with Hammonds through the years.

Young Tib hung around the local Western Union office. When he showed the manager one day that he knew code, the manager hired him—as a messenger boy. He pumped his bicycle around Mexico for less than a year when he was offered a job as an operator at Marshall, Mo. As he was only 14 at the time, his mother "had a fit," but at last she consented and he went off to tackle the world.

The Associated Press sent 1,500 words a day into Marshall in three 500-word quotas. Marshall newspaper editors had to come to the Western Union office to get their national news. Hammonds recollects that the first big news flash he handled was the signing of the Armistice.

Eventually he left Marshall, going "on the travel," building up seniority with Western Union. He worked on presidential trains, in state legislatures and was on hand to operate the telegrapher's key throughout the Midwest.

"Everything went by telegraph in those days," Hammonds mused. "People came to the telegraph office for news flashes. The telegraph office was a regular information center."

During those years Hammonds always visited the AP offices, because the code was fast, because the press telegraphers recognized as the kings of the profession. "Those AP operators used shorthand telegraphy. They never spelled a word out. Why one letter often meant a paragraph," Tib says proudly.

The press telegraphers had to take messages and type them simultaneously. They had to be able to type a minimum of 100 words a minute. "Those operators were conscientious; their copy recollects."

After gaining enough experience, the young Western Union operator took a furlough from his company in 1922. He'd always dreamed of becoming a press telegrapher, and now he felt he had job.

Gaining the coveted P. T. post on the Iowa, Kan., Register, young Tib was in his glory for a full year. But "dat ole debil machine" soon broke up his playhouse.

He left the Register in '23 when there was talk of putting in the "printers" (teletypewriter service).

He sought a haven with his first employer, Western Union, only to have "printers" rear their ugly heads again. After Western Union became mechanized, Tib conceded defeat and went off to teletype operation and maintenance school at Fremont, Neb., for a year's seminar.

Assigned to Joplin by Western Union in 1928, the veteran telegrapher continued to perform yeoman press service, handling the baseball wire for the Joplin Globe. He also worded special events. The Globe installed teletype service in 1928, but the special wire was retained to augment the flow of news.

Recalling the "good old days" of telegraphy, Tib speaks lovingly of the World Series days when Virginia Ave., which runs past the Globe, was roped off between Third and Fourth Sts. An electric scoreboard was set up on the building across the avenue from the newspaper building; and Tib gave the information from the baseball wire to Charles (Gabby) Street, one of the diamond's immortals, and Joe Becker, Joplin's beloved major league baseball scout, who in turn belloyed the progress of the games to the fans below and kept the scoreboard operator informed.

"I worked with Charlie McIntyre for about 15 years," the graying Morse interpreter recollects. "I believe he was the first man ever to use sound effects in a recreated sports event. He struck a pencil against a match box to get the crack of the bat sound to his listeners. Charlie really pioneered today's sports broadcasting."

Although Hammonds didn't have the duty when the last big Morse code news flash came in at the Globe before the wire was finally taken out, he has a vivid memory of the event. The operator assigned to watch for the report of the cessation of hostilities at the close of World War II spent hours waiting for the joyous signal only to miss it. He was unavoidably absent when the message came through.

Looking back on his career as an AP press telegrapher, Tib says: "I'd hate to sweat blood on a fast wire again, but I wouldn't have missed it. The AP used to send out a weekly 'Break Report,' which consisted of the names of operators who had held up the AP wire by missing messages."

Tib's old and honorable profession has joined the passing parade of discarded arts now, but it remains ever green in his memory. "I once watched an operator who could take code faster than a man could type it," Tib reminisces. "One night I remember taking 85 messages an hour for five hours straight, totaling roughly 8,500 words—were out a lot of typewriters myself."

Summing up his impressions as one of the last of the vanishing race of press telegraphers, Tib says: "The thing that sticks in my memory is that I never could get a typewriter that was fast enough to type the word 'Saskatchewan.' It came in 'Sask' and by the time I had it typed the sender was always a paragraph ahead of me. I still hate that word!"

He leaped out of his own car and ran back to investigate. At the wheel of the other vehicle was Hugh.

Study of How Coffee Cools Best Honored

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—What's the fastest way to cool your coffee, assuming you use milk or cream?

Do you put the cream in right away, or hold off a bit? Is this academic? It was to start with. But now now.

At Cornell University, in New York State, two coffee-keen professors fell to argue these points. Their talk was so intriguing that two seniors — Robert L. Seidel, Cresskill, N.J., and Darwin A. Novak, East St. Louis, Ill. — resolved to get at the scientific truth about it.

For their entire senior year, these two grappled with the poser. They came up with a 78-page paper, complete with formulae, graphs and a slew of higher mathematics.

A brief abstract of their findings tells you that coffee cools faster if the drinker waits a little while to pour in the milk or cream.

The students found, under laboratory conditions, that a cup of coffee takes 425 seconds to cool off enough to drink, if the milk or cream is put in at once.

If you wait 310 seconds before adding milk or cream, however, the coffee cools a minute and half faster than it does under the I-can't-wait system.

The students conceded that to some the rapid cooling of coffee borders on sacrilege. In Britain, for example, the milk is heated before it meets the coffee. And the philosopher, in any land, stands aghast at the guzzler of diluted brew that has lost both warmth and flavor.

Today, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, holding its golden jubilee convention here, gave the bulky paper first prize in its international competition for student papers.

Withdraws Offer To Give to Ike Fine Painting

MILAN, Italy (AP)—A wealthy young British-German divorcee has withdrawn her offer to give President Eisenhower an old and perhaps valuable painting. The well-known amateur artist of 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. apparently was not much interested anyway.

Mrs. Katherine Williams, a 29-year-old brunette, called the President yesterday that art experts had questioned the authenticity of her painting.

The woman offered the painting to the art-loving President, she said, to inspire him in his leadership of the free world. She said it was the work of the Italian Renaissance Master Correggio. It was called "Il Giorno" (The Day) and showed the Madonna and Child with St. Jerome.

When "Il Giorno" showed up in the Parma art gallery, Mrs. Williams said her painting was a preliminary sketch for the museum piece.

In her Milan hotel, she explained that some experts now had expressed the opinion the painting probably was the work of one of Correggio's imitators.

Mrs. Williams had said her picture was appraised by an American expert at $100,000. She said she had made a down payment to the owner, the Countess of Oshheim, who still has the painting.

Blair Removes State Seizure of Power Firm in Kansas City

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Gov. James T. Blair lifted state seizure of the Kansas City Power and Light Co. yesterday, ending almost 10 months of formal state control of the utility.

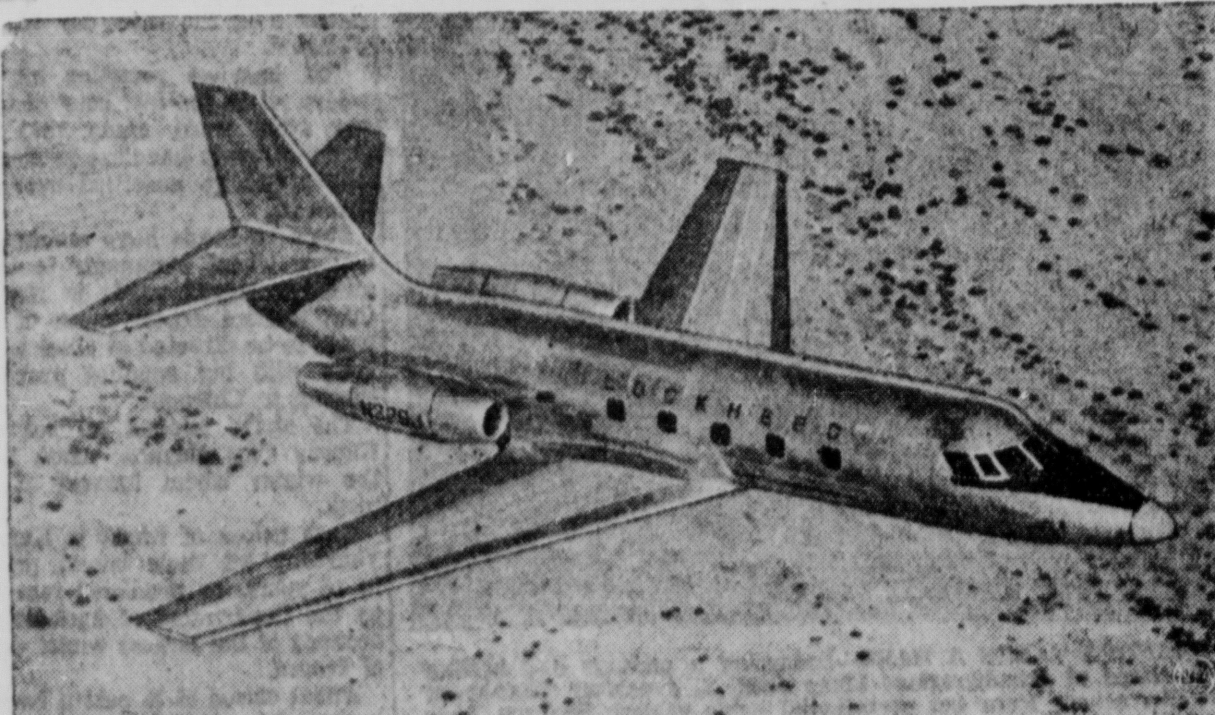

It was the longest of seven state seizures under Missouri's King-Thompson law, which prohibits strikes against public utilities.

The state took legal control of the firm last Aug. 31 to prevent a stoppage of electrical service during a wage dispute with three unions. Two of the union locals agreed to a settlement calling for a 6 per cent wage increase but the third held out until last Friday night.

Convict Finds Legal Error In Statutes

LEAVENWORTH, Kas. (AP)—A man has plenty of time to himself in prison. Virgil Gail Lawton took advantage of it. He read the small print of the state statute concerning his conviction.

Lawton, dressed in prison khaki, stood up in district court as his own lawyer yesterday and appealed for release or, at least, a new hearing.

He contended before Judge Joseph J. Dawes that his sentencing was illegal. By reading the law, he said, he found the 1957 Kansas Legislature had provided that possession of marijuana is a misdemeanor, apparently in error.

But that was no concern of his. Lawton went on. He was convicted under the 1949 law which considers possession of marijuana a felony. To him, conviction meant prison where, under the new statute, it would mean only a short jail term.

In a nine-page handwritten petition, Lawton wrote:

"Now the contentions are that your petitioner, being a first-time loser, under the act or laws or statutes, the sections of the law clearly state that a person violating this law on the first offense shall receive a penalty of a misdemeanor, and to be charged with committing a crime less in nature than a felony."

Lawton, a slim, swarthy man, has had no legal training. And it is not unusual for state prisoners to draw up and file their own writs. But his petition drew powerful opposition. Arranged against him were Tom Crosson, Montgomery County attorney, and John Emerson, assistant state attorney general.

Crosson spoke for a half hour, arguing that the 1949 criminal statute had not been superseded by the 1957 law. The older act, he said, was specific, the recent one, general.

"This is a very serious matter," Crosson said. "The question of selling narcotics is not to be settled lightly."

Judge Dawes said he found some merit in Lawton's arguments, adding:

"This court regrets that in no way can I order you discharged. In one county a county attorney can prosecute for possession of marijuana as a misdemeanor subject to a 30-day jail sentence, and in another the county attorney can prosecute under the old law for a felony and penitentiary sentence. It is a bad situation."

Pleasure Craft Outing Changed To Near Tragedy

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—A gay outing for nine persons on a 25-foot pleasure craft turned into near tragedy yesterday when they were struck by monoxide poisoning.

The other stricken were Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Anderson of Tacoma; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smoot of Hannibal and their three children, Joan, 14, Gary, 10, and Donna, 6. The operator of the boat, the Nonesuch, was Charles Inman of Puyallup, Wash., who was not stricken.

Coast Guardsmen who boarded the Nonesuch discovered that the Andersons and the Smoot family likewise had been stricken.

Britain May Accept Khrushchev's Ideas

LONDON—Britain Thursday night was reported likely to accept Soviet Premier Khrushchev's idea for early talks by experts to devise an East-West system against surprise attack.

British officials recalled that Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd a year ago put forward a similar suggestion at a disarmament conference held here under U. N. auspices.

The foreign office, however, declined to comment officially on Khrushchev's proposal, which was sent to President Eisenhower Wednesday in an evident bid to revive prospects of a summit conference.

List of Items For Auction Is Growing

The list of items to be donated to the International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) auction is growing. The IFYE auction, to be held at the State Fair grounds in the coliseum on July 19, is being sponsored by the Pettis County 4-H Council. The Council plans to raise $700 to send an IFYE delegate to another country.

Thus far there are only enough items on the list to sell for about one-third of the amount needed for the county's part to send the IFYE delegate. This means if the $700 goal is to be reached several more items will need to be donated soon.

Both urban and rural folks are asked to donate to the IFYE auction. If you have something to donate please contact Mrs. Virgil Ellis, chairman of the IFYE committee or one of the following 4-H community leaders: Mrs. H. H. Nutt, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Bob Longan, Mrs. Floyd Egbert, Mrs. William Wiener, Mrs. Ernest Cole, Mrs. Elwood Chambers, Mrs. H. E. Logan, Earl D. Curry, Mrs. Murray Wood, Mrs. L. W. The 4-H Council is asking that the 4-H community leaders turn in the names of all donated items to the county extension office by July 11. The sale bills can then be printed.

Thompson is the first American ambassador to speak to a Soviet television audience. His reference to censorship was one of the first public mentions of that forbidden subject here.

Thompson spoke on the invitation of the Soviet government on the eve of American Independence Day.

His 15-minute address, delivered in Russian, was heard by television viewers estimated to number three million in Moscow. It is expected to be rebroadcast later over a nationwide radio hookup to the far corners of the Soviet Union.

"We believe it would be to our mutual advantage if the citizens of both countries could have full access to the other's publications and to uncensored news dispatches," Thompson said.

"We would also like to get rid of the very idea of closed zones, to eliminate the existing restrictions on travel and to throw open all areas in each country to travel by the other country," he asserted.

Schrantz started as a carrier boy with the old Carthage Democrat, predecessor to the Press. He was a stockholder of the Press.

He served as captain of Company A, a Carthage Unit of the Missouri National Guard, on the Mexican border in 1916 and as a major of the 18th Machine Gun Battalion of the 35th Division in France in World War I. Schrantz was a troop transport commander in World War II, a reserve commander in Carthage after the war and retired from military service in 1950.

Thompson spoke on the invitation of the Soviet government on the eve of American Independence Day.

His 15-minute address, delivered in Russian, was heard by television viewers estimated to number three million in Moscow. It is expected to be rebroadcast later over a nationwide radio hookup to the far corners of the Soviet Union.

Hoffa Links Transport Workers in Aid Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa Thursday linked half the nation mutual aid pact. Moreover, he said he'll complete a land-sea-air labor combine before the summer is over.

Hoffa, riding high after a second recent acquittal on criminal charges, denied a suggestion he was erecting a big transport monopoly.

He said it was merely a union alliance to deal with common transportation industry problems.

Far from being daunted by the Teamsters' ouster from the AFL-CIO on corruption charges, Hoffa wooed two key AFL-CIO unions into his new "Permanent Conference on Transportation Unity" and in effect thumbed his nose at the AFL-CIO.
